

The Sports & Entertainment Law Journal Winter 2009 Candidacy

*Candidacy runs from Friday, January 23 through Monday, February 9

Candidacy Info Sessions in the SELJ Office, Room 446:

- Tuesday, January 20, at 12:00-1:00pm and 5:30-6:30pm
- Thursday, January 22, at 12:00-1:00pm and 5:30-6:30pm

The Sports & Entertainment Law Journal provides an excellent opportunity for students to refine their legal research and writing skills. Every semester, Journal staff conduct several cite and source reviews of scholarly articles slated for upcoming publication in the Journal. Members also write and edit peer commentaries considered for publication in the Journal or its website.

The Sports & Entertainment Law Journal is open to any 1L/2L student who will be able to work during the 2009 spring semester and 2009-2010 academic year.

Besides sports and entertainment law, the sports and entertainment fields encompass a variety of other legal topics, including, but not limited to, intellectual property, labor law, and tort. We welcome and support all DU law students to write-on.

The Sports & Entertainment Online Journal Candidacy Program consists of two parts:

Part I – Bluebook exercise

Part II – Short essay on a sports or entertainment law topic

The competition is administered through the Sports & Entertainment Law Journal Candidacy TWEN website. The TWEN course is titled, “Sports & Entertainment Law Journal.” The password for the course is SELJ. Once you add the course, candidates will find specific instructions and all essential materials to complete their entry.

The Candidacy Packet will be available via TWEN Friday, January 23, 2009, at 12:00 PM and must be returned by Monday, February 9, 2009, at 12:00 PM MST. The Journal will not accept any packets received after 12:00 PM on Monday, February 9. Candidates must return the packet via TWEN as attached Microsoft Word Documents.

For any questions, please contact our Candidacy Editor:
Brennan Murray: bmurray09@law.du.edu