

Legal Encyclopedias

---

Legal encyclopedias cover national and state jurisdictions and are good starting points for researching unfamiliar areas of law. These secondary sources are arranged alphabetically into many broad legal topics which are further subdivided into sections that provide researchers with useful commentary on the law and acquaint them with legal jargon. Footnotes give citations to primary sources (statutes, case law, regulations, etc.) and other secondary sources.

National Legal Encyclopedia Resources

Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.) and American Jurisprudence 2d. (Am.Jur.2d) are two national legal encyclopedias in our library published by Thomson West. Annual pocket parts keep bound Am.Jur.2d volumes up-to-date. C.J.S. volumes were last updated in 2005. When topics change substantially or pocket parts grow too large, publishers issue replacement volumes. Both sets have multi-volume general subject indexes.

C.J.S. at Level 3 KF 154 .C46 (last updated in 2005)      AmJur2d at Level 3 KF 154 .A42.

C.J.S.

All topics are outlined in "List of Titles in Corpus Juris Secundum" located at the front of each bound volume. References to West Topic and Key Numbers are cited frequently and provide researchers access to West's digest system.

Am. Jur.2d

Check "Table of Abbreviations" in the index volumes for all topics in the set. References to other Thomson West publications such as American Law Reports appear in each annotation. Examine Am. Jur. 2d New Topic Service for developing areas of law. If you have citations to primary sources, see Table of Laws and Rules conversion charts for Am.Jur.2d references. Check Am. Jur. 2d Deskbook for legal and historical documents plus tables, charts, and statistics.

Researchers without a specific encyclopedia topic and section usually begin with subject indexes. Narrow search terms lead to broad topic abbreviations. A list of all topic abbreviations is located at the front of the index volumes to assist researchers. Check the "Outline" (Am. Jur. 2d) or the "Analysis" (C.J.S.) at the beginning of each topic or the topic index to identify specific sections. Be sure to check Am. Jur. 2d pocket parts for current information.

Online Resource

Westlaw (fee-based):

<http://www.law.du.edu/forms/library/count2.cfm?LinkURL=http://lawschool.westlaw.com>.

Type one of the following database identifiers in "Search for a database" template:

AMJUR (for current American Jurisprudence, 2d);

CJS (for current Corpus Juris Secundum);

American Law Reports (A.L.R.)

Thomson West publishes A.L.R. annotations that combine legal encyclopedias and case reporters in federal and state jurisdictions. Find state appellate jurisdictions in six series (1st through 6th) (see Level 3 KF 132 .A51 through Level 3 KF 132 .A56). Locate federal appellate cases in A.L.R. Federal (see Level 3 KF 132 .A47) and A.L.R. Federal, 2d (see Level 3 KF 132 .A472).

American Law Reports (A.L.R.)—Indexing

See A.L.R. Index for access to the A.L.R. complete series. Find updates in A.L.R. Index pocket parts. Look up federal and state primary source citations in Table of Laws, Rules & Regulations and Tables of Cases volumes to find citations to A.L.R. annotations.

American Law Reports (A.L.R.) – Updating

Review annotations for selected surveys of appellate cases and in-depth commentaries. Check for supplemental case updates for annotations in pocket parts. Although subject coverage is selective, case analyses and commentaries in annotations make this resource useful to researchers.

Use “Annotation History Table” in A.L.R. Index volumes and pocket parts (see Level 3 KF 132.6 .A543) to update citations. Researchers can also use West’s Topic and Key Number citations in Digest volumes to locate A.L.R. annotations and commentaries.

Online Resource

Westlaw (fee-based):

<http://www.law.du.edu/forms/library/count2.cfm?LinkURL=http://lawschool.westlaw.com>.

Type the following database identifier in “Search for a database” template:

ALR (for current American Law Reports series).