Directed Research Description and Instructions: Offers students an opportunity to research and write in any area of law approved by a full-time faculty member who agrees to direct the project. The research project must be completed within the semester for which the student registered. The research will be reduced to a paper of publishable quality that is delivered to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs (two copies) by the last day of exams for that semester. The Dean will note compliance with the timely completion rule and will then deliver the paper to the supervising faculty member for grading. Students may register for either 2 or 3 semester hours, but may receive no more than 5 total semester hours credit for Directed Research. As of February 2004, the faculty adopted a resolution requiring that all directed research projects conform with the upper level writing requirement, which involves a mandatory rewrite, in addition to any other requirements.
