- Discuss what law practice is and the purposes of the legal profession;
- Discuss how to keep balance in one's life during law school; and
- Discuss the Student's preparation in law school, including the use of study aids and study groups.

Research and Writing

- Discuss the purposes of memoranda, pleadings, motions, orders, opinion letters, and other forms of legal writing;
- Discuss relevant issues surrounding legal writing, such as techniques for effective legal writing (including emails to clients, opposing counsel, and judges) and common mistakes; and
- Discuss techniques and resources for efficient and effective research.

Career Overview

- Discuss, generally, the differences between criminal law practice, civil litigation practice and transactional law practice;
- Discuss potential differences between large firm, small firm, government, in-house and non-profit practices;
- Discuss the Student's long-term career goals and ways to achieve those goals; and
- Discuss different career paths and identify resources for exploring paths.

Introduction to Law School and the Legal Profession

The 1L Program seeks to ease students' transition into the study and practice of law by providing them basic information about the legal profession and legal education.

Spring 2026

Ethics

- Discuss, generally, the ethics rules attorneys must follow;
- Discuss recurring ethical issues the Mentor encounters in practice; and
- Discuss a real-world ethics situation in which the Mentor has been involved or about which the Mentor is aware.

Introduction to the Legal Community

- Discuss the American Bar Association, Colorado Bar Association, local Bar Associations, and Inns of Court;
- Discuss Continuing Legal Education requirements and ways to satisfy those requirements;
- Discuss Denver Area judicial districts and the location of courthouses; and
- Discuss major private and public legal entities, including large firms, the judiciary, and large government offices with in-house counsel.

Professionalism

- Discuss the role of professionalism in an attorney's career;
- Discuss the consequences of a lack of professionalism;
- Discuss the unwritten customary rules of civility and etiquette among lawyers and judges in the community; and
- Discuss establishing a reputation and how reputation can positively or negatively impact an attorney's practice.

Substance Abuse & Mental Health

- Discuss how attorney work – replete with its heavy work-loads, unpredictability, high stakes, and exposure to trauma exposed clients – can cause stress;
- Discuss the Mentor's experiences with stress, substance abuse, and mental health issues, whether in other attorneys or in the Mentor; and
- Discuss ways to mitigate and manage stress so that it does not manifest into substance abuse or mental health issues.

Note: The Colorado Lawyer Assistance Program (COLAP) provides free confidential assistance to lawyers and law students who are struggling with stress, substance abuse or mental health problems. There is no shame. Contact COLAP at coloradolap.org or at (303) 986-3345.
